About me

I have been raised in Nebraska where my family has a farm that produces corn, wheat and soybeans. I was involved in our sheep operation and helped with lambing and the artificial insemination for breeding. I have traveled to over 10 states showing and competitively competing at livestock shows. I was involved in many sports and the arts program while I was in public school. I have a passion for acting and modeling and now focus on that. I'm currently enrolled at Liberty University online academy so that I have the freedom to travel as needed.
